INCORPORATION BOOMS CITY SAYS VISTA CITY MANAGER

Vista is a thriving community and much of the credit goes to the fact that Vista voted itself a city a year ago.

That is what Max Taylor, Vista's city manager told the Lemon Grove Men's Club Friday. The club was visited by women, too, one of the few times it has been permitted. The women were leaders in the incorporation movement here and in Spring Valley.

Taylor said that the Vista community is "extremely and happily satisfied with incorporation. We are booming in Vista. We have more new businesses and better business attitudes," he said. He advised the proponents of incorporation to try to get the petition signers to give $1 while they are signing up. "We needed about $2,800 to cover our expenses when we incorporated," he said, "and we got most of it in $1 contributions."

No City Tax Vista has no city tax and has none scheduled. "We would have to be naive not to expect a tax in time," he said. "Yet, such a tax would reflect only the level of services the community wants."

"While we were making a 90 mile round trip to get a zone change or a lot split, we are able to get that handled at home in our planning and building departments. Desire for local services and local government was the reason we incorporated."

Taylor said the estimated budget for the 1964-65 year is $500,

000. Forseeable income for the period is $650,000. "That leaves about $150,000 for capital outlay," he said. A $500,000 civic center is seen as an early result of the excess income.

Budgeted is $150,000 for the upkeep of 88 miles of Vista's roads and streets and $175,000 for police protection. A monthly payroll of $11,000 is also scheduled.

Wins Third Time Incorporation won by a 4-1 margin after having twice failed. There were 17 candidates on the last incorporation ticket. "Get a strong slate of candidates. The first council will contribute much to the success of the city's future," he said.

In Vista, the successful election resulted after the proponents got 6,000 signatures of the eligible population. Ninety-four per cent of the signatures were valid, too, he said. Seventeen people were on the first ballot for Council.

Vista's assessed valuation is $28 million. Lemon Grove's is $34 million. "That would give Lemon Grove more gas tax subventions for road upkeep," he said. "It would also provide more sales tax refunds as a city."

Taylor was introduced by Frank Armstrong, local attorney and leader of the current incorporation attempt.

A visitor was Assemblyman Richard Donovan. He sat at the head table with President John Dail who had announced the same week that he would be a candidate for Donovan's post in Sacramento.

The program this week will be provided by a local physician, Dr. James Kenaga who will talk about "Anxieties." He gave a similar talk earlier in the week at the L.G. Rotary club and was highly complimented. In his talk, Dr. Kenaga tells how to recognize the various types of anxieties and what to do about them.

The club meets Friday at noon at Michaels' and non-member males are invited.

Over 100 persons attended a meeting of Parents for Prayers at the Bancroft church Thursday night after the group was given the consent of the county school superintendent to circulate recall petitions. If 20 per cent of the district's 30,000 voters sign the petition within six months, a recall election will be held by the district.

Rev. Ginn said the organization is an informal one that would resist "emotionalism and radicalism."

"We are losing our Constitutional rights fast enough by default. We thought we could not afford to sit still and let things go."

L.M. Jaycees Back Recall "This freedom is allowed in the Lemon Grove school district but may soon be questioned," Walter Vint, president of the La Mesa Junior Chamber of Commerce said that his group had "overwhelmingly endorsed" the recall movement.

"We are quite concerned by the ignoring of the majority and individual rights by school board members," Mrs. Burnett, Mr. Johnson and Mr. Andreen. Unless positive action is taken by responsible citizens, government of the people, by the people and for the people will be taken away."

To Combat Recall The Committee to Combat Recall in the La Mesa-Spring Valley school district was formed Monday night at the home of Alan Perry, an attorney in San Diego who lives in La Mesa.

The group is partly made up of members of the two-year old Committee to Keep Good Schools. The latter group had Mrs. Rosalie Graham, a dedicated, respected school supporter as one of the leaders. She is also active in the Combat Recall organization.

In a statement of beliefs, the group said it believed that Mrs. Burnett, Johnston and Andreen able discharged their duty. That they acted legally and wisely in adhering to the opinion of County Counsel in connection with school prayers; That their action is consistent with State Board of Education policy.

The committee also said that

Parents for Prayers Seek Recall of Three Trustees Of LM-SV School District

A group of Spring Valley parents who feel their Constitutional rights have been diminished by the tightened control over prayers in schools in the La Mesa-Spring Valley school district, have set out to relax these controls "without emotionalism and without joining with radicals."

A member of the committee of Parents for Prayers, a growing group of parents with youngsters in Spring Valley and La Mesa schools, is the Rev. Lewis E. Ginn, pastor of the Bancroft Baptist church in S.V. Dr. John Barbour of the La Mesa Congregational church represents the church of L.M.

The group is helping to sponsor a recall election of three of the trustees of the La Mesa-Spring Valley school district by which it claims "the voice of the people will be heard on permitting the saying of prayers or grace in district schools."

The trustees are Robert Andreen, William Johnston and Mrs. Margaret Burnett who followed County Counsel Bertram McLees' opinion that use of prayers in schools violate the U.S. Constitution.

In a Jan. 27th school board meeting the three voted against a resolution by Trustees Mrs. Anna Dewey and Dr. Cyril Padfield which would have permitted teachers to offer non-sectarian prayers routinely in schools.

More than 100 persons attended a meeting of Parents for Prayers at the Bancroft church Thursday night after the group was given the consent of the county school superintendent to circulate recall petitions. If 20 per cent of the district's 30,000 voters sign the petition within six months, a recall election will be held by the district.

Rev. Ginn said the organization is an informal one that would resist "emotionalism and radicalism."

The committee also said that would outflank the objections to spot zoning which Assistant County Counsel Robert Berrey says cannot be defended in court because it is contrary to the aims of the zoning ordinance. Under a use permit, the parks would be treated legally in the same manner as a school or church.

Do Away With Them There is, of course, a third position on trailer parks and that is that they just should not be allowed, but none of the commissioners, being realistic, have taken this position.

Hooper wants to restrict the mobile homes to multi-dwelling zones. He said that a solution similar to special use would end by breaking down the entire concept of protective zoning.

He said, "I would not want the responsibility for making decisions on requests for mobile home parks in every zone."

"You will remember," he told fellow planners, "that I was instrumental in getting mobile home parks banned from heavy agriculture zones."

Ray, on the other hand, said that there are many isolated places that could be ideal for the establishment of mobile home parks. He mentioned one trailer park about eight miles south east of Fallbrook on Highway 395 as a good example of an isolated park.

He said he favored the special use or conditional use permit approach to give flexibility to planning for the mobile homes. He said some solution should be found whereby R-4 requirements could be by-passed and the parks legally established in suitable locations.

Dan Cherrier, assistant planner of the county, told the commission of two new concepts in zoning that are being tried in other jurisdictions.

An "S" zone designation allows the planners to grant the zone change but requires the developer to follow a specific plan to keep the zone change in effect.

Cherrier also told the commissioner of a "T" designation with the "T" standing for temporary. This would have the same effect of making the developer use the land for what he said he would when he got the zone change.

Rogers, area coordinator for The John Birch Society, San Diego and Imperial Counties, charged that the Lemon Grove Review and Spring Valley Bulletin were in gross error in stating in an editorial Jan. 30 that "In reading booklets sent to this newspaper, and all others, by The John Birch Society, we learn that they don't want him (J. Edgar Hoover) either". Rogers pointed out that the society has always completely supported the director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"The society has always commended Mr. Hoover in the most laudatory terms for his fine job of preserving the internal security of the U.S. It is hoped that such irresponsible editorializing will cease," Rogers declared.

Rogers issued a challenge to the Lemon Grove Review and Spring Valley Bulletin, in which the editorials appeared, to produce the John Birch Society material to which they refer, naming the publication and quoting the language therein that supports their position.

The accident occurred at 10 p.m. Saturday. The California Highway Patrol reported that the car, driven by Richard G. Muyskens, 17, of 3643 S. Granada st., Spring Valley, went off the highway, flew 45 feet through the air and down a 10 foot embankment into a river bed. All four were thrown from the car.

Orval Butcher, pastor of the Skyline Wesleyan Methodist church (left) and the Rev. Ardis Bakken, pastor of the L.G. Lutheran church, right. The latter two men do not have churches in the school district where school prayers are an issue but show concern over the "mounting radicalism the issue is producing."

BEER SOLD TO MINORS IS CHARGE

Four youths were apprehended by an off-duty deputy sheriff Friday night and a charge of selling beer to minors was then lodged against a Lemon Grove shopkeeper.

The deputy, Gordon Ringwald, of 8836 La Mar, S.V. had entered the Popular Delicatessen to make a purchase when he observed the four youths whom he averred were purchasing $14 worth of beer. He apprehended William Francis Trachta, 20, 551 Alene st., Spring Valley; John R. Herman, 18, of 7840 Sanford, L.G. and John M. London, 19, a sailor. Ringwald said Robert Edward Miller, 20, 8021 Mt. LEMON GROVE BEATLES? — What passed for Beatles showed up locally last week when American ingenuity matched British talent and local stores were selling Beatle Wigs for $1 to $5.

Four local businessmen, overcome by the enormity of the acceptance given to the British quartet, bought wigs, donned same, and strolled through town. They were greeted with everything from double takes to squeals of delight. Said Joe Payson, left, "One girl asked me for an autograph. She broke up when I asked her how to spell autograph."

Fred Tait, Al Halligan and Del Anderson completed the combination. All are connected with Trico Flooring in Lemon Grove. Payson called the group the Carpet Beatles.

"We un-nerved a lot of drivers," one said. Once they focused their eyes on us they couldn't turn their attention to driving again."

The fellows brought guitars but didn't insist on playing. Each of them said he was 22-years old.

Overcome by being feted by the famous group is Maybelle Williams, who runs the office of this newspaper.

Unlimited Progress Cited in Lecture by Christian Scientist

Unlimited progress is the natural result of spiritually understanding the ailment of God and the nothingness of matter, Jules Cern of New York City told a large audience here Tuesday.

"There can be no smallness in ailment," Mr. Cern declared, emphasizing the boundless everness of infinite good.

Proof of God's infinite goodness lies in the healing and harmonizing through prayer, he said, of what appear to be the ills and discords of mankind.

A well-known Christian Scientist, Cern is on extended tour as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship. He spoke at First Church of Christ, Scientist, La Mesa, 8262 Allison ave., on the subject "Christian Science: It's Divine Revelation and Human Application." Mrs. C. L. Wattenbarger, second reader, introduced him.

Girl Scout Chatter

By Mary D. Giacinto

The spotlight is placed on Pat Owen's 22 girls in Troop 661. They had an overnight at Balboa Park Feb. 1. Their project, held jointly with the 31 girls in Mrs. B. K. Hasting's Troop 953 of Coronado, was a Scouts Own. The large group represented and the seriousness of the participants made this project a memorable one for both troops.

The spotlight now shifts to Troop 661's project in which they'd like all Lemon Grove youngsters to participate. Movies! Good Movies! In Color, Too. Yes, Pat Owen and her scouts are excited about bringing the wonderful movies to you. Though it is a money making project for them, they know how much each child will enjoy the pictures they offer.

On Feb. 29, they will present two showings of "The Adventure of Toby Tyler", and a chipmunk color cartoon. The Palm Avenue Junior High Cafeteria is the place. One showing is at 10 a.m., the other at 2 p.m. Admission is 25 cents. Popcorn and pronto pups (hot dogs on a stick) will be on sale for your convenience.

Here is worthwhile entertainment at a reasonable price. You will also, while enjoying the movie, help send troop 661 to the beach at Youth Camp in Coronado. May 1 and 2, and make it possible for Girl Scouts to go camping at Tapawingo in Cuyamaca in November. See you at Palm Avenue Cafeteria February 29.

Naomi Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Bernice Svalstad, 7857 Longdale dr., Lemon Grove, at 9:30 a.m.

A meeting of Ruth Circle will be held at the church at 9:30 a.m. Mrs. Sylvius Rivinius is hostess.

Mary-Martha Circle will meet at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Catherine Jacobson, 1648 San Altos place, Lemon Grove.

All women of the church and their friends are invited to the circles.

The Couples' Club of the Lemon Grove Lutheran Church will meet Saturday, Feb. 22, at 7:30 p.m. at the Joseph Kaiser home, 6608 Broadway, San Diego 14.

Teachers' Group To Hear CTA Exec. Secretary

Jack Rees, associate executive secretary of the California Teachers Association, is scheduled to address the Lemon Grove District Teachers Association on the subject of "Financing Our Public Schools" on Thursday evening, Feb. 27, at 7:30 at the Lemon Grove Junior High Auditorium.

Rees, a well-known authority on school finance in California, will outline possible actions the special session of the Legislature may take this spring in Sacramento. His two-fold concern, (1) additional support from the state to operate public schools, and (2) a per cent increase in state aid to ease the burden of local property taxes, will be aired in this and surrounding communities.

James Dawson, LGDTA president, and Thomas Brogan, program chairman for the CTA chapter, announced that all interested citizens are invited to attend.

L. SMITH'S ZONING DELAYED BY PLANNERS

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Lewis F. Smith and others, were denied a C-zoning for 1.6 acres on Avacado blvd. just north of Campo rd. last week by the County Planning Commission. Don Miller, State Dept. of Highways engineer, protested due to negotiations between the state and owners of property along Highway 94. The Smith property is not to be taken but adjoins the proposed right-of-way which is the subject of a condemnation suit.

Miller said rezoning any part could have an adverse effect on the state's case. The commission will re-institute the zoning on their own motion as soon as the state's case is settled.

In other action, the Commission granted lot reduction on four lots owned by C. Favorite on Kempton st. west of Felicita, and denied a request for lot reduction for a 22-unit apartment to the L. B. White Co. on the north side of Delrose ave. east of Elkton. The White firm had asked a 2,400 foot reduction from the 22,000 foot requirement.

L.G. INCORPORATORS GET 30 DAYS MORE

The Board of Supervisors granted a 30-day extension to Lemon Grove proponents for incorporation but it had to call a special board meeting to do it.

The previous extension granted to L.G. Attorney Frank Armstrong, head of the incorporation group, would have expired Monday had not the board called the special session and granted the request.

Armstrong said the group has 2,000 of the necessary 2,600 signatures needed to call an election.

Needed are signatures representing 25 per cent of the number of proposed city's property owners. The signers must represent 25 per cent of the total assessed valuation.

A Spring Valley proponent group obtained an extension last week. Both extensions expire March 18, supervisors announced.

The early filing of a notice of intention to incorporate and the subsequent extensions were to avoid the jurisdiction of the Local Agency Formation Commission, a state agency to control incorporations and annexations, which was formed last September.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:
The Grossmont College and the California State Employment Service operate a Student Employment Office on the Campus. We help students find work that will enable them to remain in school.
There are many students, both young men and women, who are available for work any hours they are not attending classes. All students are available until 12 noon and some do not start classes until 3 or 4 p.m. Others are out of class by 3 or 4 p.m. and are available for evening or night work. We have students attending evening classes which begin at 7:50 p.m. and who can work all day.

Call us when you have a job opening.
Our young people are mature and willing to work even for a few hours in the afternoon or late evening or early morning.

What was the average age of the lads cut down on Iwo and Heartbreak? I'm sure it was in the early twenties and what does this indicate? Surely, nothing related to E. R. Barnes' list of "118".
Also, I'm curious to know how many beside E. R. Barnes who are in his age group are drawn to this sin-soaked, lust-laden scapegoats for all the ills of human hate and pride and selfishness that long preceded paperbacks.

Parents for Prayers . . .

citizens should support the policy of the school board and that it feels that the proposed recall is punishment for acting conscientiously.

Teachers Support Board
Meanwhile, teachers of the L.M.S.V. school district in a special meeting Friday attended by more than 200 members supported the stand of the school boards. They issued a four-point statement:

1. The L.M.S.V. Teachers Association supports the school on its prayer decision; 2. That their (teachers') rights have not been violated or restricted; 3. They unalterably oppose a recall election, and 4. They include as their policy the policy of the school board at the Jan. 27 meeting at which it was voted 32 that students could say prayers resulting from their own volition but prayers would not be part of the school program.

Association's Position
"1. Students shall be allowed during the school day to say prayers or recite which are the result of their own volition or the admonition of their parents."
"2. There shall be no prayers, or other religious exercises, used as a part of the school program of this District."
"3. Our teachers should have no hesitancy in teaching about religion. We urge them to make clear the contributions of the religion to our civilization, through history, art, and ethics. We want the children of our District to be aware of the spiritual principles and the faith which undergird our way of life."

Guarantees Freedom
The Constitution's Bill of Rights guarantees freedom of religion, speech, assembly, freedom of the press, and right to petition.
The Rev. Ginn meanwhile was meeting with other ministers in and out of the district asking them to "help keep emotionalism at a minimum".
Rev. Ginn said a pamphlet with the answers to eight questions could best express what the philosophy of the Parents for Prayers movement is. They are:

What is behind this group (Parents for Prayers)?
A voluntary group of parents of children in this district who call themselves Parents for Prayers. There is no other or outside organization behind this.
Why have a recall election?
It is the only way left to return to our teachers the freedom of choice of using voluntary prayers or grace as an aid in training our children in moral values.
What does the petition do?
It merely will permit an election where the people can vote to determine whether or not they wish these board members to continue to be their representatives and whether or not the people want this type of prayer in school.
Didn't the Supreme Court rule out prayers in public schools?
No! They merely said the State or the School Board could not require as a regular part of the curriculum the regular saying of prayers or Bible reading.
Should we use our schools to indoctrinate in religion?
No! Any prayers permitted would be non-denominational.
Didn't our School Board permit prayers by its action?
No! These three members ruled out all classroom prayers and all participation or use of prayers by a teacher or any other religious exercise. This would rule out Christmas programs also.
Didn't the County Counsel rule that all prayers in schools were unconstitutional?
The County Counsel only advises. He states that voluntary prayers, not required, have not been ruled on by the Supreme Court. Although he felt they would be held unconstitutional in his opinion, this opinion differs from many other legal authorities, from the opinion of a federal judge who has ruled on this, and from the school board of the San Diego Unified School District.

Crime . . .

Reeser, 20, while he had it parked at 9805 Campo rd., S.V. Thieves overlooked a large bag of coins on the floor of the front seat.

Skate Board Taken
A thief took a $13.95 skate board from a filing desk cabinet at the Spring Valley Junior high school one night last week. Entrance was made while custodians were cleaning up, it is believed. The skate board belonged to a student.

Complaints About Dumping
A complaint that neighbors are repairing cars and leaving left-over junk on his property was made by Enril Caldwell, of 8733 Harness st., Spring Valley. He said that several "no dumping" signs he had put up were torn down each time. He gave officers the license numbers of cars involved and said he will sign a formal complaint when police locate the cars' owners.

Window Is Target
Oranges tossed at his apartment building from a passing auto was the complaint of O. G. Alexander. The tossers broke a Window Monday night which will cost $12 to repair at his building at 7537 High st., L.G., he said.

Founded 1920
The Military Order of the World Wars is a national organization which was founded in 1920 and chartered by Congress in 1931.

Its purpose is to preserve the national Government and its Constitution and to protect the liberties as set forth in the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights.
The Cajon Valley Chapter received its charter in Aug., 1963. Lt. Hans Von Laden, national commander, administered the oath of office to Col. F. J. Andrews, USA, Ret., chapter commander, Maj. L. J. Campbell, USA Ret., and Cdr. G. L. Patrick, USN Ret., the vice commanders, as well as the rest of the chapter officers.

The membership of the order is open to officers or former officers who served on active duty with the military, and is by invitation only.
The chapter's membership has increased from 56 in August to 73 today.

Raises Given Junior College Summer Teachers

The Grossmont Junior College board of trustees will decide at their Monday meeting whether or not they will earmark $332,000 for construction of the college's speech arts program including drama, public speaking, radio broadcasting and telecasting.

The board decided at its meeting Monday to call for bids on the construction of 10 tennis courts and for the turfing of the football practice field on the future college campus.
The board also approved a salary proposal for summer school teachers based on 10 per cent of a teacher's regular contract for a six-week summer school teaching assignment. Previously teachers had been paid $6 an hour. Trustee Portia Goode said the summer school rate should be 15 per cent because the assignment is for 15 per cent of the regular assignment.

A teacher who received $625 last year for six week's work will receive $830 this year under the 10 per cent agreement. The 12 teachers in the summer college will be paid $9,960 this year as compared with $7,500 last year.

The DIMMER VIEW (Continued)

come to an issue on the November 3 General Election Ballot.
On both sides of the issue are moneyed folk. There are the theatre folk opposing Pay TV and San Francisco Giants and the Los Angeles Dodgers (among others) promoting it.
In the balance is a new way of television life for Americans.
A little-noticed law was pushed through Legislature last year which permits Pay TV by way of a telephone line hookup with the home owners' television sets.

Set owners would have the choice of watching the "vast wasteland" without charge or hooking into the Pay TV lines viewing programs of their choice for amounts varying from $1 to $7.50 per program. There would also be a $10 installation fee and a yearly service charge of $52, under the proposed plan.

It is estimated that a Pay TV family could expect to pay $150 a year to start and $1,000 a year within 10 years.
It is also believed that actors, writers, directors and stars will go to Pay TV because that is where the money will be. That would leave little else for the free type except the advertisements showing the inner workings of human stomach and head cavities.

Pay TV can come none too soon for us. Like many another American viewer we have become disgustingly tolerant of tasteless and indecent advertising after having first been conditioned by a series of boring and insane programs.

Logic told us not to expect diamonds from the dime store counter. Yet, television occasionally found itself — particularly in the on-the-scene reporting field.

Orbital shots and the President's funeral are two outstanding examples. Conversely, sports events, where free television also shines, are often bogged down by head-throbbing, sledgehammer commercials of beer, pills and razor blade spiels which distract and irritate.

We suppose it doesn't make much difference to the free tv station operators. There'll always be amateur contests, charades, old movies and Queen for a Day to fill in the time formerly devoted to the programs we'll now be paying for.

With the spectre of a high-cost-of-television-watching about to hit the state's television viewers in the pocketbook, maybe they'll react enough to push the initiative measure and kill the Pay TV bill. If that happens they must organize and demand better programming and less frantic commercials.

Discrimination?

We have been through the mill the past few days with those who argue on either side of the issue of prayers in schools; the Beatles, and the Rumford Act petitions. Now we have an integration issue.

This one concerns the rhythmic Negro stars, the five Ink Spots who are appearing presently in San Diego.

We want to know why the forces of integration have not gone to work on them? There is not a white singer among them.

That's discrimination.

Unruh's School District Will Be A Mighty Big One

While local school district supporters were keeping a weather eye on recommendations being made by sincere and studious groups which make up the Committee on School District Organization, others were more concerned on the issue of prayers in school.

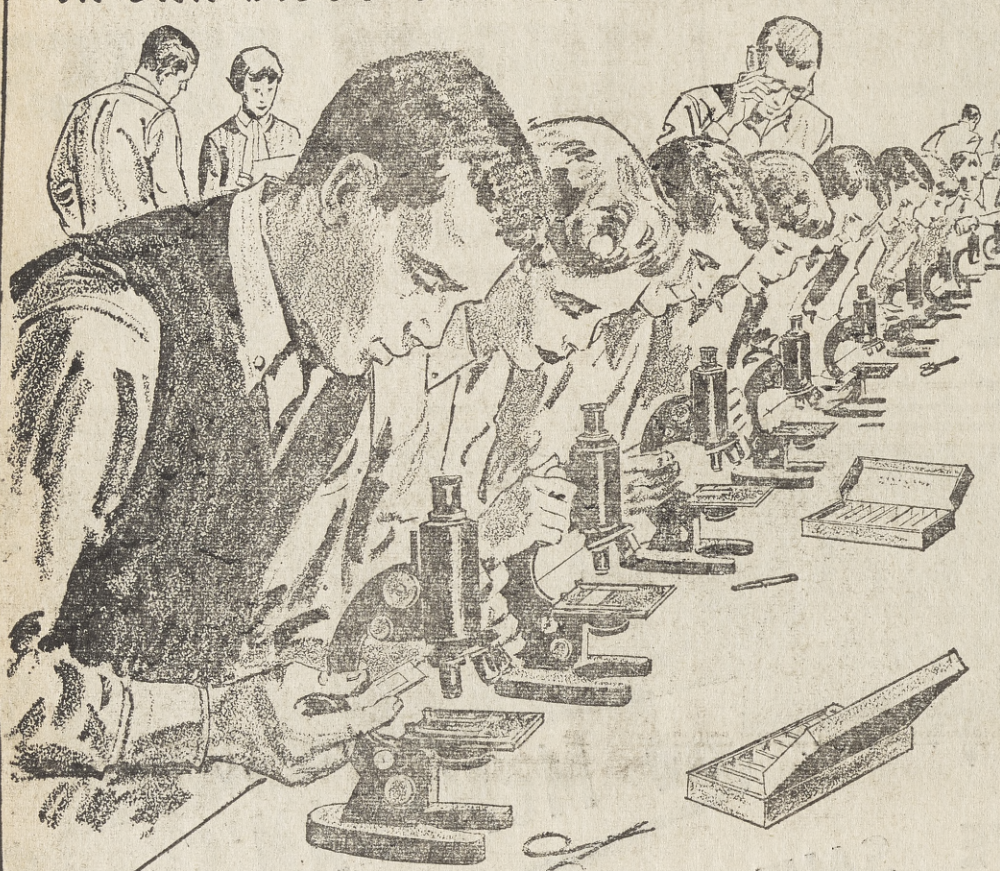

These issues are important, but while attention was being distracted, that masterful politician, Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh dropped AB 46 in the Legislative hopper the third day of the special session. Co-signers of AB 46 were Assemblymen Bane, Ryan, Crown, Dills, Dynally, Gaffney, Garrigus, Kennick, Meyers and Stanton. The Bill is described as one which will ultimately consolidate all school districts in a given county into one countywide district. The exception would be those districts either wholly or of which a principal portion is in a chartered city. The net effect of this bill, if enacted into law, would be to virtually abolish most of California's locally elected and community-oriented school districts including the ones of Spring Valley and Lemon Grove.

Proponents claim a reduction in the 1,585 school districts is necessary to effect economies permitting all schools to receive more monies without further raising taxes. Opponents claim school funds will still have to come from county taxpayers. In many, if not most areas, increased taxes under AB 46 is being prognosticated by the California School Boards Association.

CSBA, one of the major opponents, charges that AB 46 flies in the teeth of orderly process of legislation which set up a master plan for school district organization with a committee in each county. The committee is charged with making recommendations before any unification is effective. The committee represents local electors and gives district voters the right to decide how their district should be run. AB 46 would change that, say CSBA.

CSBA President Kenneth F. Sayette said, "This sudden proposal to establish countywide school districts has been given under the false guise of economy. Whatever the benefits of large unified districts may be, no one has proved that they are, in general, more economical. We are not misled, and we believe that the taxpayers of the state will see through this scheme to deprive them of their locally controlled school districts which are close to the people . . . (the) proposal is merely a warmed-over version of the countywide school tax proposed to and rejected by the Legislature in the last two sessions. Under both plans, school tax revenues would be derived from exactly the same county-wide course — namely local property taxes."

County Turns Down $250,000 Claim of Man Who Died in Jail

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — The County Board of Supervisors Tuesday rejected a $250,000 damage claim filed by the family of Charles William Miller, 48, because of Miller's death in County Jail on Oct. 7, 1963. A coroner's autopsy showed that Miller died of a heart attack. Miller lived in Spring Valley when he died. His family now lives in Lemon Grove.

The claim was filed by lawyer William B. Enright and its rejection by the board will undoubtedly lead to a law suit in Superior Court.

Reports at the time said that Miller staggered into a Lemon Grove drug store at 7735 Broadway and said he was sick and needed help. Pharmacist M. E. Carlen called sheriff's deputies and when they arrived told them that Miller needed medical aid.

Miller, however, was taken to county jail, apparently because deputies thought he was drunk. Tests by a coroner's toxicologist indicated a blood alcohol content of only .01 per cent, far below the generally accepted standard of drunkenness of .15 per cent, according to the coroner's office.

Miller was placed in a holding cell at the jail and was discovered dead about six hours later.

Sheriff Joe O'Connor said after an investigation that the officers had done their best to look after a person who was unable to look after himself.

"The fact that he had a heart condition was not apparent," O'Connor said, "but the fact that he was drunk was apparent."

The coroner's office said that Miller died of lung congestion caused by a coronary occlusion which was caused by arteriosclerosis, a condition which can produce the symptoms similar to those of drunkenness.

According to the arrest report, Miller's only comment at the time of his arrest was, "Take me to a hospital. I'm sick."

SORORITY DANCE

SAFETY FIRST — Assemblyman Richard J. Donovan (R-77th Dist.) receives his vehicle safety inspection sticker from Don Johns of the Lemon Grove Merchant's Association. In co-operation with the California Highway Patrol, the Sheriff's Office, and the San Diego Traffic Safety Council, merchants of Lemon Grove set up a free safety inspection station in the parking lot at Broadway and Olive streets and inspected more than 500 cars in three days.

A team of volunteers checked lights, wipers, brakes, horns, tires and wheel alignment. The Traffic Safety Council, of which Donovan is a member, has planned to set up similar check stations throughout the county.

Pat Grace, chairman of the project said the check lane was enthusiastically received by local motorists. "But I was surprised that so few cars needed adjustments. Apparently local drivers are more careful than most," Johns said the project was "eminently successful" and said the short delay which some drivers experienced was due to personnel not being available at peak load times. "We didn't expect so many cars and we didn't expect them to come in bunches. Next year we'll have more manpower."

Radio KOGO had a mobile transmitter on the grounds at the time of the project and both men said the station's co-operation helped make the lane the success it was.
